Security Awareness Training

MARF003 Follow vessel security procedures
(STCW Reg VI/6 and Code Section A-VI/6 paragraph 4, Table A-VI/6-1)

Under the Manila Amendments to the STCW Convention, it will be mandatory from 1st January 2014, for all seafarers to possess knowledge related to security awareness, before engaging on board a vessel, and to undergo security related training. This course meets the requirements of Regulation V1/6 of the STCW Convention as amended.

The Security Awareness Training course runs over 1 day and covers the below content:

- Maritime security terms and definitions, including elements that may relate to piracy and armed robbery
- International maritime security policy and responsibilities of governments, companies and persons
- Maritime security levels and their impact on security measures and procedures aboard ship and in port facilities
- Security reporting procedures and security related contingency plans
- Techniques used to circumvent security measures
- Recognition of potential security threats, including piracy and armed robbery
- Recognition of weapons, dangerous substances and devices, and awareness of the damage they can cause
- Handling of security related information and communications
- Training, drill and exercise requirements under the relevant conventions, codes and IMO circulars, including those relevant to anti-piracy and anti-robbery

This course is AMSA approved and as part of the STCW - Certificate of Safety Training. The other 4 courses that are required are the Personal Survival Techniques, Basic Fire, Personal Safety and Social Responsibilities and Elementary First Aid (Senior First Aid).

Certification

On successful completion of the course, students will receive an AMSA recognised Statement Certificate for 'Security Awareness Training (STCW Reg VI/6 Code A-VI/6 paragraph 4, Table A-VI/6-1)', as well as a Nationally Recognised Statement of Attainment for MARF003 Follow vessel security procedures. Participants will need to have also completed the other 4 STCW short courses before applying for the AMSA Certificate of Safety Training.
